McDelivery: Food Packaging Safety Update

McDelivery packaging standards require that all delivery orders (food + drink) go out in a yellow rope-handled bag. Our packaging standards also require the use of two stickers to seal the bag closed. As we work to stay focused on our top priority - protecting the health and well-being of our people and our customers especially during the current health concerns – we are recommending the addition of a third sticker to the top of the bag. The placement for the third sticker is indicated in the below picture.

We ask that you take the time to review the correct packaging procedures with your teams. There are many resources available to help you with this. You can access the McDelivery Pocket Guide here or view the March NABIT Nation webcast here. If you have additional questions regarding McDelivery packaging procedures, please contact Bud Lord or Mark Klinker.
